

The Role of Education in the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) Era

Dates

November 13 (Wed) - 15 (Fri), 2024

Location

Building W15, Chungnam National University
(Daejeon, Korea)

INVITATION

We invite you to the CCAT 2024–Education!

Since 2016, the Brain Korea (BK) 21 Center for Global Citizenship Education and Research (GCER) has been dedicated to promoting global citizenship education (GCED) to address the challenges of the 21st century and explore how universities can contribute to achieving the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Our mission is to contribute to solving social problems through GCED.

This year, the 4th CNU Conference of Advanced Technology (CCAT) will host four symposia, each focusing on distinct topics: SDGs solutions, medical biology, digital agriculture, and next-generation energy. The BK21 Center for GCER is honored to lead Symposium 1, which will explore the role of education in the SDGs era.

The symposium will provide a platform for the exchange of practical insights and research on the key topics of GCED, such as universities' efforts to achieve the SDGs, GCED in Asian countries, and the practices and challenges of GCED in schools. We invite researchers, policymakers, university administrators, teachers, educators, and students to develop effective strategies to promote GCED and contribute to achieving the SDGs.

We look forward to your participation and hope this event will inspire meaningful collaboration for GCED.
